

STRUCK DOWN A SENATOR.

Incident Recalled of South Carolina's Assault on Charles Sumner.

It is almost forty-five years ago that another South Carolinian, Preston Smith Brooks, figured as an assailant in the United States senate chamber. Brooks, then a member of congress, was born in Edgefield county, the same county where Senator Tillman first saw the light of day. It was he who assaulted Senator Charles Sumner of Massachusetts with a cane. The entire north was aroused.

Senator Sumner had delivered a speech entitled "The Crime Against Kansas," which, because of certain expressions, had incensed the members from the south. Carolina. After the senate had adjourned, May 22, 1856, Brooks entered the chamber and approached Mr. Sumner from behind while the senator was seated at his desk, and struck him repeatedly on the head with a cane till Mr. Sumner fell insensible on the floor. Several south-erners, among them Mr. Barksdale of Mississippi, stood near by drawn revolvers and prevented any interference. One of the committees of the house subsequently reported a resolution favoring the expulsion of Brooks, but the final vote was 121 yeas and 95 nays. As this was less than two-thirds, Brooks was not expelled.

At a later day, during a house debate, Brooks had an angry colloquy with Representative Anson Burlingame of Massachusetts and Brooks was challenged by Burlingame to a duel. It was accepted, the duel to be fought with rifles in Canada. Brooks, however, failed to appear for the combat on the plea that he would have "to pass through the enemy's country." He resigned his seat and was unanimously re-elected. The south generally upheld him as I gave him presents of many costly ones and other testimonials. He died in Washington January 27, 1874, less than a year after the assault on Sumner.—Washington Post.

HAVING A RUN ON CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

Between the hours of eleven o'clock a. m. and closing time at night on Jan. 25th, 1901, A. F. Clark, druggist, Glade Springs, Va., sold twelve bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says, "I never handled a medicine that sold better or gave better satisfaction to my customers." This remedy has been in general use in Virginia for many years, and the people there are well acquainted with its excellent qualities. Many of them have testified to the remarkable cures which it has effected. When you have a cough, cold, or attack of the grip, use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you are certain to be more than pleased with the quick cure which it affords. For sale by Elvey & Hulitt.

"Music is a very desirable accomplishment," said Mehtabel's mother. "That's right," answered her father. "If a girl likes a young man she can play comic opera and make him feel perfectly at home, and if she doesn't she can give him a few samples from a sonata and make him weary."—Washington Star.

Headache often results from a disordered condition of the stomach and constipation of the bowels. A dose or two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will correct these disorders and cure the headache. Sold by Elvey & Hulitt.

"Thompson says he regards his mother-in-law as a perfect treasure." "To be sure he does—the kind he'd be satisfied to lay up in heaven."—The Smart Set.

A PRINTER GREATLY SURPRISED.

"I never was so much surprised in my life as I was with the results of using Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says Henry T. Crook, pressman of the Asheville (N. C.) Gazette. "I contracted a severe case of rheumatism early last winter by getting my feet wet. I tried several things for it without benefit. One day while looking over the Gazette I noticed that Pain Balm was positively guaranteed to cure rheumatism, so I bought a bottle of it and before using two-thirds of it my rheumatism had taken its flight and I have not had a rheumatic pain since." Sold by Elvey & Hulitt.

Cityman—Laugh and the world laughs with you.
Mayor of Canton Sodin—Wa'al, I d'no 'bout that, stranger; but yew jest say 'smile,' an' yew bet yew'll all 'smile' with yew!—Ohio State Journal.

If troubled with rheumatism, give Chamberlain's Pain-Balm a trial. It will not cost you a cent if it does no good. One application will relieve the pain. It also cures sprains and bruises in one-third the time required by any other treatment. Cuts, burns, frost-bites, quinsy, pains in the side and chest, glandular and other swellings are quickly cured by applying it. Every bottle warranted. Price 25 and 50 cents. For sale by Elvey & Hulitt.

Be careful (compassionately)—Jove! You look miserable! Going to the dentist's to have a tooth pulled?
Vermily—No! My wife wants to attend the grand opera tonight and I'm going to the box office to have my leg pulled.—Judge.

No matter how humble a man's lot may be, he's all right if there's a cottage on it.
